Item Description

Late 18th Century mahogany triple top fold over card table which opens to reveal a playing surface. It features surfaces for both a game table with baize lining and sunken counter wells, as well as a tea table of the finest quality, to top. It stands on four cabriole legs featuring shell carved knees on the front two and terminating in well-formed pad feet, with a back leg functioning as a gate leg. The drawer is adorned with a brass handle and escutcheon.
