Item Description

18th Century Russian Orthodox Church hand painted icon plaque depicting Jesus Christ to centre and the Twelve Great Feasts representative of significant moments from the life of Jesus Christ and Virgin Mary. The Twelve Feasts mark important dates on the Orthodox liturgical calendar. Hand painted with gilt detail on a wooden panel.

Provenance: This example was gifted to a convent of nuns by a Russian family after their time spent on the run and in hiding at their convent in England during the Russian Revolution c. 1917
